AS A MATTER OF FACT:

It's important to follow your child's routine immunization schedule so that your child completes the full course of vaccinations. And ensuring your baby gets all 3 doses of Prevnar 13 can help protect against invasive pneumococcal disease (IPD) and ear infections caused by the 13 types of S. pneumoniae bacteria included in the vaccine.

AT 2 MONTHS

Your baby may be starting to pay attention to faces. Take a selfie with your baby and show them the photo – or use a baby-safe mirror in their crib so they can discover their own sweet face.

AS A MATTER OF FACT:

Your baby's immune system is amazing and, since birth, has been busy protecting your baby from thousands of germs. Prevnar 13 helps your baby's immune system make antibodies that defend against 13 types of the S. pneumoniae bacteria to help prevent invasive pneumococcal disease.

AT 4 MONTHS

You may notice your baby likes to play, so try a little game of peek-a-boo and see if it inspires a happy smile.

AS A MATTER OF FACT:

Vaccines are given to children early in life because they are vulnerable to diseases, including invasive pneumococcal disease. Remember to follow your doctor or nurse's instructions to complete your baby's full Prevnar 13 schedule, including a third dose by your baby's 12th month.

Your baby might enjoy banging two things together. Help baby make some noise! Give them some baby-safe pots and pans to play with while you make dinner.
